Big Boy Restaurants International LLC to Host Ribbon Cutting Ceremony at Newly Renovated Livonia Restaurant

Livonia, Mich. – (May 26, 2004) – Even classics need a facelift now and then. Boy Restaurants International LLC is doing just that by renovating its restaurant in Livonia located at 33427 Plymouth Road (at Farmington Road). On June 8 the Big Boy restaurant will host a VIP night celebrating its renovations and at 5:00 p.m. Livonia Mayor Jack Engebretson will participate in the ribbon cutting ceremony. The event will also feature a tent with free hot dogs and hamburgers for the kids (while supplies last) as a sign of appreciation for the community's support of the restaurant during the past four years.

This is the second major remodeling for the 44-year-old Big Boy restaurant in Livonia and patrons will see changes inside and out. Renovations include a new façade and 49 additional seats, both resembling the new prototype restaurants that will soon be built in the Metro Detroit area. A newly paved parking lot is another improvement.

“We continually strive to make enhancements to our Big Boy restaurants,” says Tony Michaels, CEO of Big Boy Restaurants International LLC. “A major remodeling such as this one is an integral part of our commitment to excellence.”

Wail Bamieh along with his two partners James Mrisi and Milton Zussman have owned this unit since 2000 and are excited for their new and improved Big Boy restaurant. The three partners have generously contributed to the Livonia community in the past by distributing over 400 meals to the needy every year at Thanksgiving. They also work with local churches, schools and the community on food donations.

“Without the Livonia community's support, our restaurant would not have grown into the success that it is,” the partners said.
